Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Memorial of the Family of Forsyth De Fronsac Page 260, Vol. II, of Professor Laycock s Mind and Brain reads: The highest evolution of what I have termed Primordia Instincts is seen in the communistic instincts of two classes of animals which are at the head of their respective archetypal branches: viz., the social insects - the most highly developed of the invertebrate; and the social man - the most highly developed of the vertebrate. In truth, the family instincts are the solid foundation of society. Hence it is, in proportion as they are active in a nation, in the same proportion is its social organization vigorous and complete. Aristocracies are formed by Nature, by the general advancement of the fittest. This is accomplished genealogically, and genealogy is the science on which aristocracy rests. From the study of genealogy arises the science of heredity, of the science of psychic transmissions. Nobilities, on the other hand, are not formed by Nature, but are recognitions, by man and his government, of aristocratic products. Nobility and aristocracy are not always the same, yet they are related. An aristocracy does not exist in vigor without producing a nobility, and a nobility, even though at first formed of unaristocratic products, if continued in a proper manner, makes itself respectable and conservative. Of aristocracy, though containing different elements, there is but one description. It is an organic body, in a community, bred to eminence and renown by many generations of honorable career and exalted position.
