Winthrop, Jr., to express its sense of the loss it has sustained by the recent death of its senior Vice-President, Charles Deane, LL.D. After calling the meeting to order, the President, Dr. George E. Ellis, rose and said: - Gentlemen, - This special meeting of our Society is called and held as a tribute of our personal affection and esteem for, and an expression of our profound respect and grateful appreciation of, the character and the faithful and fruitful life-work of our late first Vice-President, Dr. Charles Deane. The meeting was prompted by our considerate host. The response to his invitation is spontaneous. Well do we know that the modesty and the unobtrusive spirit of our associate would have made him shrink from any greatly different method of our tribute to him, as his life closed, from that in which at our regular meetings he had so often taken a part, as, one by one, through lengthening years, our members have passed away. But by promptings coming with their own force, the feeling was warm and general among us that his death called for a special and signal expression of our exalted and grateful estimate of him and of his services to us. It needs not that we should be oblivious of the care and toil of the founders of this Society in their early devotion to it, in gathering,...
